3.3. AIRPORTS AND AIRCRAFT LANDING STRIPS

3.3.1. All buildings, structures or uses located in close proximity to licensed aircraft landing strips shall be governed by Transport Canada regulations. (See 3.14.2. Height Exceptions) and subject to conditions in Table 2.

3.3.2. Noise Exposure Forecasts are contours produced to encourage compatible land use planning in the vicinity of airports. These contours are derived from air traffic volume and aircraft type and mix for 5 to 10 year period. The higher the contour level, the greater the disruption caused.

3.3.2.1. This land use tabulation should not be considered as an exhaustive listing, but merely as examples of how various land uses would be expressed in the Noise Exposure Forecast zones in terms of community response predictions.

3.3.2.2. Explanation of Conditions

Yes -- The development is permitted without special noise insulation, subject to any following letter.

No -- The development is not permitted.

- A.- A marginal zone exists near the 30 NEF level where aircraft noise may begin to annoy some residents. It is recommended that developers be made aware of this fact and that they undertake to inform prospective tenants or purchasers of residential units.
- B.- The developer should be required to inform prospective tenants/buyers that aircraft noise may interfere with certain activities.
- C.- These facilities should not be located close to the 30 NEF contour unless the restrictions outlined in Note D are applied.
- D.- This land use shall not be permitted unless a detailed analysis of noise reduction is conducted and noise insulation features are considered by the architectural consultant.
- E.- When associated with a permitted land use, an office may be located in this zone provided that all relevant factors are considered and a detailed noise analysis is conducted to establish the noise reduction features required to provide an indoor environment suited to the specific office function.
- F.- Many of these uses would be acceptable in all NEF zones. However, consideration should be given to internally generated noise levels, and acceptable noise levels in the working area.
- G.- Undesirable if there is spectator involvement.
- H.- It is recommended that serious consideration be given to an analysis of peak noise levels and the effects of these levels on the specific land use under consideration.
- I.- The construction of covered enclosures should be undertaken if this use is to be newly introduced to the noise environment.
- J.- Research has shown that animals condition themselves to high noise levels. However, it is recommended that peak noise levels be assessed before this use is allowed.

3.9.6.3.1 Municipal Design Review Considerations

Municipal design review of development, redevelopment, or expansion is intended to ensure the thoughtful integration of such proposals into their local context and consistency with Zoning By-law 2/99 “P”. Design review will focus on a proposal’s consistency and compatibility with the standards of Zoning By-law 2/99 “P”, with highest levels of scrutiny where multi-family uses meet/mix with non-multi-family uses and where appropriate and reasonable.

3.9.6.3.2 Facades and Articulation

Each multi-family principal building, must:

- a) Orient main entrances to be front facing.

- c) All air conditioning compressors must be completely screened.
- d) Any rooftop equipment generating noise that can be heard outside the boundaries of the lot must also be buffered or otherwise attenuated to direct unavoidable noise upward. (See Illustration 1.)

Illustration 1: Rooftop Equipment Screening

3.9.6.3.5 Pedestrian and Bicycle Access

- a) Each multi-family dwelling development containing more than 50 dwelling units, whether developed in a single or multiple phases, and whether in a single or multiple principal buildings, must comply with the following standards, where applicable:

Pedestrian and bicycle paths and pathways must be developed to connect to existing or proposed Municipal pathways. Paths and pathways must be designed and constructed to Municipal Design Standards;
  - ii. Bicycle Access
Bicycle access routes must be provided between public bicycle lanes, paths, or pathways and on-site bicycle parking areas. Sites should be designed by a registered Landscape Architect or other suitable design professional to avoid or minimize all conflicting bicycle/motor vehicle and bicycle/pedestrian movements. All bicycle paths and pathways connecting to the municipality's path and pathway system must comply with Municipal Design Standards;
  - iii. Visibility of Common Areas
To promote public safety, primary multi-family dwelling buildings and landscaping must be located and designed so that clear sight lines are provided to and between common open spaces, circulation paths, and access points into the development, where applicable.

3.9.6.4 Commercial or Institutional Development

Each principal building or development in which most of the gross floor area is occupied by commercial or institutional use must comply with the standards set out in this section, unless the provisions of section 3.9.6.6 Commercial Mixed-Use Development Apply:

3.9.6.4.1 Municipal Design Review Considerations

Review of development, redevelopment, or expansion is intended to ensure the thoughtful integration of such proposals into their local context and consistency with Zoning By-law 2/99 “P”. Design review will focus on a proposal’s consistency and compatibility with the standards of Zoning By-law 2/99 “P”, with highest levels of scrutiny where commercial or institutional uses meet/mix with non-commercial or non-institutional uses and where appropriate and reasonable.

3.9.6.4.2 Notwithstanding other provisions of this By-law, the following uses shall not be allowed as a primary/main use in the Commercial Zones when located in the Serviced Area:

- a) The establishment of a Single Family Dwelling;

3.9.6.4.3 Notwithstanding other provisions of this By-law, the following uses may be approved only as conditional uses, where they are otherwise permitted, in the Commercial Zones when located in the Serviced Area:

Illustration 2

3.9.6.4.4.2 Facades and Articulation

Each commercial or institutional principal building, other than large commercial retail buildings, as defined in subsection 3.9.6.4.4.5 below, must meet at least two of the following four standards, with the choice of those standards to be at the option of the owner:

1. Transparency Option

a minimum of 10 percent of each façade area that faces a street must be composed of transparent materials. At least  $\frac{1}{2}$  of this amount must be provided so that the lowest edge of the transparent materials is no higher than 4 feet above the street level (See Illustration 3);

Illustration 3: Transparency

In this example, windows and doors with a transparent surface area equal to 10 percent of the façade surface area are provided on the front façade. Transparent materials should be located to provide visual interest to pedestrians, with the bottom edge of at least half of them located no higher than 4 feet above grade.

2. Wall Plane Articulation Option

each façade greater than 100 feet in length abutting a street, measured horizontally, must incorporate architectural features such as wall plane projections, recesses, or other building material treatments and textures that visually interrupt the wall plane. No uninterrupted length of any façade must exceed 100 horizontal feet.

3. Vertical Articulation Option (for Buildings Taller than 30 Feet)

each principal building taller than 30 feet in height must be designed so that the massing or façade articulation of the building presents a clear base, middle, and top (See Illustration 4.);

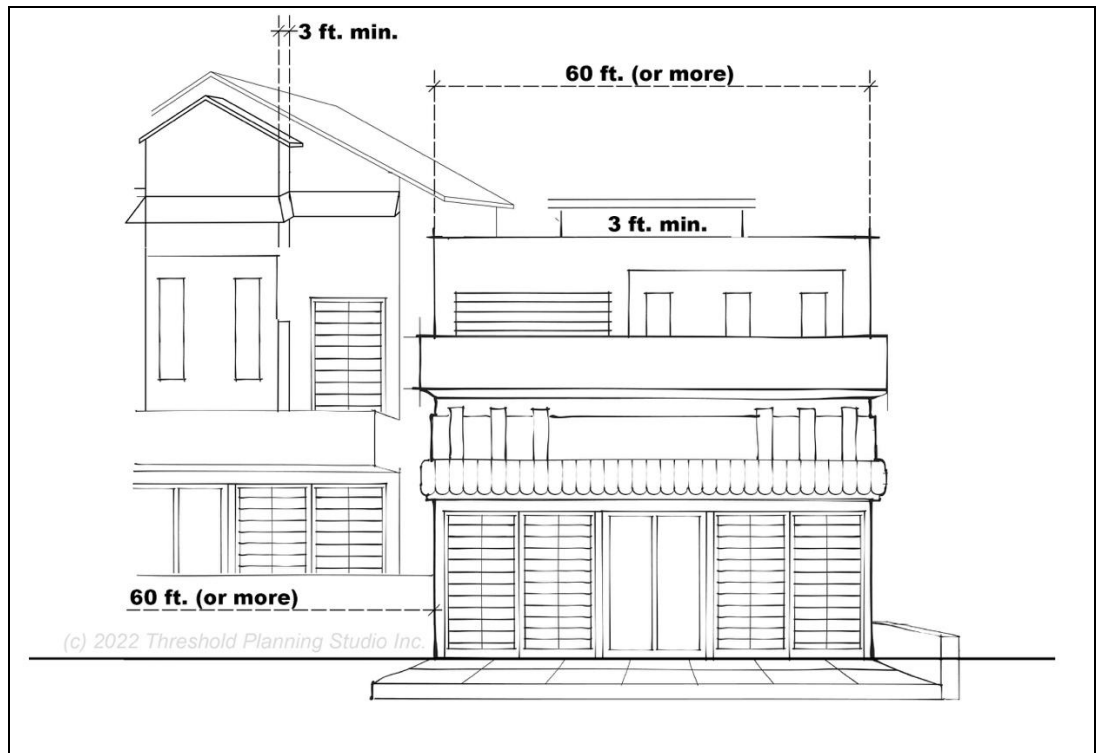

Illustration 4: Example of Vertical Articulation

4. Roof Articulation Option

where sloping roofs are used, at least one projecting gable, hip feature, or other break in the horizontal line of the roof ridgeline must be incorporated for each 60 lineal feet of roof. Where flat roofs are used, the design or height of the parapet must include at least one change in setback or height of at least 3 feet along each 60 lineal feet of façade. (See Illustration 5.)

Illustration 5: Example of Roof Articulation

3.9.6.4.4.3 Entryway Design and Location

- a) a canopy or portico;
- b) a roof overhang;
- c) a horizontal recess or projection;
- d) an arcade or arch;
- e) a peaked roof form;
- f) an outside patio;
- g) a display window;
- h) architectural tilework or mouldings integrated into the building design;
- i) integrated planters or wing walls that incorporate landscaped areas or seating areas; or
- j) another architectural feature not found on the remainder of that building façade.

3.9.6.4.4.4 Rooftop Equipment Screening and Projections

a) Rooftop Equipment Screening

Rooftop mechanical equipment and appurtenances must be screened so that they are not visible from adjacent public streets or adjacent properties less than 200 feet away when viewed from 5 feet above grade level. Screening enclosures must be constructed of a material similar in appearance to at least one of the predominant materials used in the facades of the principal building and one of the predominant colours used in the principal building. All air conditioning compressors must be completely screened. Any rooftop equipment generating off-site noise must also be buffered or otherwise attenuated to direct unavoidable noise upward when adjacent to residential or institutional zoning districts.

b) Building Projections

All building projections that remain visible from abutting public streets after the screening required by subsection 3.9.6.4.4(a) above, including but not limited to chimneys, flues, vents, gutters, and down spouts, must match the colour of the surface from which they project, the building's trim colour, or be constructed of materials such as brick or stone that match materials used on the building.

3.27.1.10 Measurement of Sign Surface Area

3.27.1.10.1 Signs Attached to Building

Sign surface area is calculated as follows for signs attached to a building:

- a) Sign surface area includes the entire area of the smallest rectangle that encloses the extreme limits of any writing, representation or emblem forming part of the display, and includes 10 percent of the area of the wall outside of that rectangle where a colour or material is applied that is a colour or material in that fascia sign (see Illustration 12);

Illustration 12: Surface Area for Signs Attached to Buildings

- b) Sign surface area does not include non-illuminated signs visible through windows in the building façade, provided that such signs do not exceed 30 percent of the glazed surface on any façade of the building. Allowable window signage is not transferable to the glazed surface on another façade of the building;
- c) In calculating wall area for purposes of determining maximum sign surface area, only the first storey or 15 feet (whichever is lower) of the building may be used. Allowable sign surface area is not transferable to another wall;

- d) Readograph or bulletin board sign areas are not included in calculation of sign surface area if they comply with the following:
  - i. are a maximum of 25 percent of the overall size of the sign;
  - ii. incorporate the same background colour as the sign;
  - iii. do not exceed 15 square feet in area; and
  - iv. are designed as an integral part of the sign (not an add on).

3.27.1.10.2 Free-Standing and Mobile Signs

Sign surface area is calculated as follows for free-standing and mobile signs:

- a) Sign surface area includes the entire area of the smallest rectangle that encloses the extreme limits of any writing or symbol, background colour or material, and any embellishment of the supporting structure forming part of the display;
- b) Sign surface area includes the total area of all faces exhibited or intended for display, except where two faces are parallel and located back-to-back, sign surface area includes the area of only one such face, and if the two parallel, back-to-back faces are not equal, then the sign surface area is the larger of such faces (see Illustration 13);
- c) The maximum allowed surface area for free-standing signs is not transferable to any frontage other than that from which its maximum size was calculated pursuant to Table 8, District-Specific Sign Regulations;
- d) Readograph or bulletin board sign areas are not included in calculation of sign surface area if they comply with the following:
  - i. is a maximum of 25 percent of the overall size of the sign;
  - ii. incorporates the same background colour as the sign;
  - iii. does not exceed 15 square feet in area; and
  - iv. is designed as an integral part of the sign (not an add on).

Illustration 13: Surface Area Measurement for Freestanding Signs

The two sides of sign “A” are back-to-back but are not parallel. As such, both sides are included in the surface area calculation. The two sides of sign “B” intended to include copy (the larger faces) are back-to-back and parallel. As such, only one side is included in the surface area calculation.

3.27.1.10.3. Three-Dimensional Sign

When a three-dimensional sign has no easily measurable faces the sign surface area of said sign is half the sum of the area of the vertical faces of the smallest right-angled rectangle encompassing the sign. (See Illustration 14).

Illustration 14: Three-Dimensional Sign
